

AUSTIN JET SETTERS TAP INTO JET LINX SAN ANTONIO FOR PRIVATE AVIATION SERVICES

OMAHA, Neb. (October 2016) – Jet Linx Aviation, a private jet company headquartered in Omaha with nationwide service through its 14 base locations, taps into a growing jet market in Austin utilizing the team based in San Antonio and Austin to service local Austin members. In the last six months, Jet Linx has grown its member base in Austin with three dedicated aircraft based in San Antonio and has plans to expand its fleet with two additional aircraft that will also service the Austin market by early next year.

“As one of the fastest growing cities in the U.S., Austin has also grown tremendously in the business sector, and it has been evident in our demand for both local service and fleet over the past six months,” said Daniel Kearns, Vice President of Aircraft Management in Austin. “We’ve shown steady growth and our Austin membership is projected to double by early next year. Jet Linx is dedicated to not only growing our fleet to meet the demand, but also offering the top-tier aircraft management service Jet Linx is known for—operating on a local, more personalized level.”

The current Austin base of 12 members is serviced by three dedicated aircraft which operate from the San Antonio International Airport (SAT) Jet Linx Base and the nationwide Jet Linx fleet of over 80 aircraft. Local members experience unmatched service and the convenience of having a dedicated staff assisting members with their every need for every trip.

Jet Linx is the leading provider for aircraft management services, offering a spectrum of benefits through a combination of local bases backed by a powerful national infrastructure. From aircraft acquisitions to cost-effective aircraft operation to aircraft maintenance, Jet Linx keeps both aircraft owners and potential owners based in Austin assured that they are receiving a best-in-the-industry experience with guaranteed revenue and savings. In addition, Jet Linx aircraft management clients in Austin automatically gain access to the Jet Linx Jet Card program, with no up-front membership fee required, and guaranteed aircraft availability, hourly rates and the highest standard of safety. In fact, the Jet Card program serves as a backup solution for an aircraft owner when their aircraft is on a revenue flight or down for maintenance.

Some other cost-effective differentiators within the Jet Linx Card program include round trip rates based on occupied flight time only, exclusive one-way specials as well as access to Jet Linx’s fleet of light, midsize, super midsize and heavy jets, without penalty for the upgrade.

Overall, Jet Linx has flown over 55 million miles since its inception and today manages the third largest part 135 fleet with 82 total aircraft. The company boasts local Bases in 14 cities spanning from East to West and guarantees service “from” and “to” anywhere in the United States, Canada, Mexico and the Caribbean. Jet Linx also provides international service to Europe, the Middle East, Africa, Asia and South America. By the end of the year, Jet Linx aims to reach over 1,300 members and over 90 aircraft in fleet.

Jet Linx is among the four percent who have earned an ARGUS Platinum Safety Rating, the highest safety rating awarded to an operator which has been presented to Jet Linx every year since 2005. In addition, Jet Linx attained The International Standard for Business Aircraft Operations (IS-BAO) Stage 3 certification this year (the highest IS-BAO rating), which has become a globally accepted “gold seal” for business aviation operations attesting to the highest standards in safety and efficiency, placing Jet Linx in the top one percent of all operators for safety.
